Property Damage Heavy as Result of New Gale

MORGAN CITY, La., Oct. 4.—(By Telephone to Houston, Texas.)—Three persons are dead and the property damage heavy as a result of a tornado which struck this city shortly before 10 o'clock. Wire communication just recovering from the West Indian hurricane, was again demoralized with New Orleans.

Judge's Directions Disobeyed by Jury

Forty minutes after Judge T. W. Harris had declared a verdict of not guilty should be returned in the case of George F. Hilton, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, the jury that heard the evidence filed into court and said that they believed him to be guilty. A verdict to that effect was returned and the court set it aside, on motion of Peter L. Crosby, attorney for the defendant. The charges against Hilton were then dismissed.

Says Refusal to Drink Coffee Caused Beating

Margaret L. Farrell filed suit for divorce against William J. Farrell in the Superior Court today, alleging that he gave her a beating when she was ill on one occasion, because she refused to drink a cup of coffee which he had made for her. She avers that she was physically unable to drink the beverage. She also alleges that he threatened to break her mother's head and to indict punishment on her brother.

China Passes Rules for Primary Voting

PEKING, Oct. 4.—Regulations governing the election of members to the peoples' conference, which shall decide whether China shall adopt monarchical form of government, have been passed by the state council, acting in the capacity of a legislature. The preliminary will be completed on November 5 and the final vote cast in the provincial capitals ten days later. If the vote favors a monarchy the restoration of that form of government will be promulgated.

Hungarian War Loan to Bear 6 Per Cent

BERLIN, Oct. 4, by wireless to Sarville.—The forthcoming Hungarian war loan, according to the Overseas News Agency, will bear 6 per cent interest and will be issued at 97 1/2. It will be redeemable in 1921.

Refugees From Thrace Arrive 40,000 Strong

ATHENS, via London, Oct. 4.—Forty thousand Greek refugees from Thrace are reported here to have arrived at Kavala. Most of them were in a pitiable condition and large numbers of fugitives are said to have died of hunger on the way. The Bulgarian government is said to be preventing the departure from its territory of French citizens.

Swiss Order Cavalry on German Frontier

GENEVA, via Paris, Oct. 4.—The Swiss general council has ordered several squadrons of cavalry to assemble at Schaffhausen, Zurich and Frauenfeld. This unexpected step has aroused much discussion, as the troops will be stationed along the German frontier.

To Dismiss Criminal Coal Strike Cases

DENVER, Oct. 4.—The dismissal of most of the criminal cases growing out of disorders in the coal miners' strike of 1913-14 is imminent, according to reports from sources close to state administration.

War Loan Sum Nearly Taken Up

John D. Rockefeller Is Rumored Participant

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—An important announcement indicating the success of the Anglo-French loan was made today by J. P. Morgan & Company. It was to the effect that no subscriptions to the underwriting will be received after 10 a. m. tomorrow. The statement follows:

"In behalf of the managers of the underwriting syndicate of the Anglo-French external loan, J. P. Morgan & Co. announce that no subscriptions toward the underwriting will be received after 10 o'clock tomorrow (Tuesday) morning."

John D. Rockefeller was reported today to have subscribed to the $500,000,000 Anglo-French bond issue. It was said that his subscription will be the largest taken by individual investors and approximately $10,000,000.

There is small likelihood that Rockefeller's participation will be officially announced until he sees fit to state it. The syndicate managers have decided not to make public the list of large individual subscribers on the ground that the subscribers are the clients, and to talk of their affairs would be a breach of confidence.

Subscriptions for the loan continued to pour in today. Among those seeking to subscribe were a considerable number of British and French citizens residing abroad.

The foreign orders came by cable.

OFFICIALS OF O. T. ARRANGE CONFERENCE

Arrangements are being made by President George K. Weeks of the San Francisco - Oakland Terminal Railways for the calling of a meeting of the board of directors of the corporation for another conference with the members of the grievance committee of the Carmen's Union for the further discussion of the points at issue between the company and its employees.

Distinguished Looking Prisoner Mystery

Sheriff Frank Barnes is investigating the record of an elderly and distinguished appearing man arrested late last night near the town of Milpitas, with two thoroughbred horses belonging to Harry Smith, a San Leandro stock man, in his possession. The stranger has given the name of John Doe, and has refused to talk concerning his past.

J. N. Anderson Resigns From State Senate

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4.—John N. Anderson, state senator from Santa Ana, after serving two terms of four years each has resigned. His resignation has been accepted by Governor H. W. Johnson. The resignation was announced by Anderson's term virtually has expired and the 1916 election will call for the filling of the regular four-year term.

Cotton Market Firm After Federal Report

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Immediately after the announcement of the government's cotton crop reports indicating 10,500,000 bales, the smallest since 1903, the market assumed considerable stability and strength. Cotton futures advanced more than $1 per bale in a few minutes and all prices were soon up from 58 to 66 points over Saturday's closing.

SCHMIDT ON TRIAL

NEW CHARGE AWAIT'S 'SIR HARRY'

Man Who Deceived Girls in Oakland Wanted in South Wales

Is Said to Have Broken Out of Jail; Police Seek Extradition

"Sir" Harry Westwood Cooper, alias Dr. Milton Abraham, alias Ernest Chadwick, has come to life again in his old-time haunt, Sydney, New South Wales, according to information received here by way of Johannesburg, South Africa. "Sir" Harry is again in custody, and Johannesburg is seeking to have him extradited from New South Wales for jail-breaking in Cape Town. Details of Cooper's forgeries, bigamies, robberies and other crimes are being sought by the Cape Town and Johannesburg authorities as a means of pressing the demand for extradition.

It was in Sydney that Cooper married one of his early brides and passed some of his largest forged checks, according to Captain of Inspectors W. J. Petersen.

Petersen said today that if Johannesburg is to have Cooper extradited, he will renew his appeal to District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes and Governor Johnson to have Cooper brought to Oakland to answer charges of bigamy, forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses, the three charges being felonies. He is also wanted for violating his probation from San Quentin.

Cooper is wanted here for victimizing Miss Anna Milbrath by a bigamous marriage, for swindling her parents of all their savings by false representations made when he was courting the pretty Oakland nurse, and for presenting a forged draft for $15,000 to the bank.

SENTENCED IN SOUTH

Cooper was next heard from in South America, where he was given 18 months' penal servitude under the name of Norman E. Mackay, in March, 1913, for passing forged drafts. When the time came for his release, Captain of Inspectors Petersen, then chief of police of Oakland, attempted to obtain his extradition to California to face trial, but failed on account of the refusal of District Attorney Hynes to join with him in the request. Hynes thought the expense of sending to South Africa was so great as to warrant his refusal to join in the request.

Angle of Redlight Abatement Tested

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The question as to whether or not a private citizen has the right to act independently or must call upon the district attorney to proceed under the terms of the red light abatement law will be decided by Superior Judge Sutherland tomorrow. A large delegation representing several organizations was in court today when arguments were heard in the case of James G. Chown vs. J. Harling, Won Don King, and others. The premises affected are at 2 Beckett street. Attorneys Morris E. and Edward C. Johnson contended that Chown had a perfect right to bring suit, but in a demurrer entered by the defendant, represented by Attorney George Appell, it was that the aid of the district attorney must be sought and he must bring proceedings against the premises. The court continued the matter for decision until tomorrow.

Says Jewels Were Removed From Body

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Charging that Charles L. Higgins, husband of Henrietta H. Higgins, had removed diamonds from a beach and other jewelry to the value of $115 from the body of his wife while she lay dead on March 17, Mary Langan, administratrix of the estate, filed an affidavit in the superior court today. She asks that Higgins be arrested pending a disposition of the property, in order to safeguard the jewelry.

Wilson Will See World's Series Cabinet Party Also May Attend

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—President Wilson will see the Phillies and the Red Sox battle for the world's baseball title next Saturday at the second game of the big series to be played at National League Park here. The President and a small party of friends will view the game from a box on the right field side of the grandstand, near the home players' bench.

Mr. Wilson was invited to the games in this city about two weeks ago by President William F. Baker of the Philadelphia Club and an acceptance was received last week. Baker made no announcement of this fact, however, until today, preferring the information to come from Washington first.

There is a possibility that several members of the President's cabinet will accompany the President. It was made known at the offices of the ball club today that there are about ten applications for reserved seats in the Philadelphia grounds. The management has not opened any of the mail received since Saturday noon, as it will be useless to handle any more applications.

There was much disappointment when it was announced there would be no public sale of seats. In previous world's series games in this city mail applications were not considered, the reserved seats being placed on public sale. Thousands of fans assumed the same plan would be followed this year.

HURLS DEF. THROWN OUT COURTHOUSE

William L. Cherry, accused with his wife, Hazel Cherry, of having robbed Herman Hirsch, a retired merchant, was thrown bodily from the District Attorney's office in the court house today by Deputies James M. Koford and W. E. Smith when he became abusive in protesting the action of the officers in having his wife's trial postponed to October 15th.

Cherry struggled and the two attorneys, one on either side of him, dragged him from the private office of Smith and threw him bodily into the hallway leading to the steps to the lower floor of the court house. Cherry left the hall, vowing vengeance.

SCENE IN COURT ROOM

This scene was preceded by one in court in which Mrs. Cherry took part. In this Mrs. Cherry was of unfair dealing, and declared that her constitutional right to a trial within sixty days after arrest held to answer to the Superior Court was being violated.

Smith explained to the court that he had a legal right to seek the continuance, because Mrs. Cherry at her own request had before secured a postponement of the trial, a fact which nullifies the effect of the state law naming the sixty-day limit. Smith further explained that the crowded criminal calendar would not permit of the case being heard at an earlier date.

"You are unfair to me, and I am being persecuted," Mrs. Cherry shouted at Smith said down. "I am entitled to trial within sixty days, and you are robbing me of my constitutional rights. I'll fix you, Mr. Smith. I'll fix you," she continued, threateningly shaking her finger at that official.

L.A. DYNAMITE CASE OPENS IN SOUTH

Defendant's Attorney in South Argues for New Venue

McManigal to Testify About Explosion in Times Building

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—With the courtroom filled to the exclusion of spectators by officials and prospective jurors, the trial of Matthew Schmidt on a charge of murdering Charles Haggerty, one of the twenty victims of the dynamite explosion which wrecked the Los Angeles Times building October 1, 1910, was begun here today before Judge Frank R. Willis in the Superior Court.

David Caplan, co-defendant with Schmidt, who will be given a separate trial, was in the courtroom. He took a seat just back of the attorneys' table. As soon as the court began to call the names of veniremen former Judge C. H. Fairall, chief counsel for the defense, challenged the special venire summoned as not having been properly selected.

JUDGE FAIRALL ARGUES.
Judge Fairall argued that the state law regarding jurors had been changed last January and that the list of the present venire did not state whether or not the men selected were property-holders.

Until the law was changed only property-owners were eligible to serve as jurors. The defense contended that the present list should show whether the members of the venire owned property.

After short arguments, Judge Willis ruled that the venire was drawn in proper form. Examination of the talesmen then was begun.

During a tilt between Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, and Judge Fairall, the latter ordered both the attorneys to their seats with the remark: "I want to try this case in an orderly manner."

Attorneys for the defense were the first to appear in court this morning. They took seats nearest the jury box and Judge Fairall announced to move until the court had ruled that their chairs belonged to the district attorney and his assistants.

Olaf Tveitmo, leader of San Francisco, held a lengthy consultation with the defense's attorneys before court commenced.

FEW SPECTATORS.
Although a special entrance had been constructed through which but one person at a time could enter, and a squad of deputy sheriffs were on duty, but few spectators were in line in the corridor outside the courtroom today awaiting a chance to enter.

Balkan Crisis Put Up to Ferdinand

Russian Minister May Have Left Sofia

PETROGRAD, Oct. 4, 11 a. m., via London, 12:35 p. m.—Unless Bulgaria has conceded fully the demands of Russia concerning the breaking off of relations with the central powers by 2 o'clock this afternoon, the Russian minister at Sofia and his staff will depart. However, as Russia draws a distinction between the Bulgarian government and the Bulgarian people, no repressive measures will be adopted against Bulgarian subjects in Russia.

Even M. Madjarov, Bulgarian minister to Russia, will not be expelled. His passports will not be given to him and he will be permitted to remain undisturbed, although no official relations will be maintained with him as the representative of King Ferdinand. The foreign office expects that the fact that Russia alone sent an ultimatum to Bulgaria was due to voluntary recognition on the part of her allies of this nation's predominance in the Balkans and of her moral claim upon the gratitude of the Balkan peoples.

Whether England, France and Italy will withdraw their representatives at Sofia in case Russia takes this action, has not yet been decided. Russia felt compelled to make this move in view of the failure of all efforts to bring pressure through other means on King Ferdinand. It is the view of the Russian government that the recall of its minister would convince the Bulgarian people that King Ferdinand's policy is dangerous.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 4, 2:52 p. m.—Two powerful Russian squadrons are reported to have appeared off the Bulgarian coast near Varna, on the Black sea. This announcement is made by the Tribuna of Rome, according to the correspondent there of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

ATROCITIES IN ARMENIA STIR U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Ambassador G. H. Barksdale, Constantinople, was instructed by cable today to form the Turkish minister of foreign affairs that public sentiment in the United States was so stirred by the reports of the Armenian atrocities that unless the massacres ceased "friendly relations between the American people and the people of Turkey would be threatened."

AIRSHIPS DAMAGE BRITISH MONITORS

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—(By Wireless to Sarville, N. Y.)—It was officially announced today that two British monitors had been damaged before La Fanne by German naval airships.

ZEEBRUGGE ATTACKED BY ALLIES' AIRSHIPS

AMSTERDAM, via London, Oct. 4, 1:45 p. m.—The Telegraph announces that the ships of the allies yesterday bombed Zeebrugge on the Belgian coast. Some of the bombs which were dropped weighed seventy-five pounds.

The airships were attacked by anti-aircraft guns which brought down one machine. Another was compelled by the searchlights to alight near Nieuwvliet on Dutch territory. A British officer was interned.

FRENCH PROGRESSING TO NORTH OF ARRAS

PARIS, Oct. 4, 2:28 p. m.—French troops have continued to make progress to the north of Arras, according to the announcement given out by the French war office this afternoon. The advance has been made by fighting in the Champagne district.

A squadron of French aeroplanes has thrown forty bombs of heavy calibre on the railroad station at Metz. The text of the communication follows:

"We have continued to make progress to the north of Arras, according to the announcement given out by the French war office this afternoon. The advance has been made by fighting in the Champagne district."

DECISION IS DEMANDED TODAY

Open Alliance or Neutrality Made Alternative of Nation

Von Mackensen Leads Teuton Army on Borders of Serbia

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 4, 4:58 p. m.—"News of the landing of troops at Saloniki, Greece," says the Temps, "is awaited here from one moment to another."

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 4, 2:52 p. m.—Two powerful Russian squadrons are reported to have appeared off the Bulgarian coast near Varna, on the Black sea. This announcement is made by the Tribuna of Rome, according to the correspondent there of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 4, 1:20 p. m.—Bulgaria must make her choice today for an open alliance with the central powers and Turkey, or for neutrality. When her decision will be made known publicly rests with the censors, but it is regarded as unlikely that there will be delay in satisfying the widespread anxiety to know the best of a well-informed opinion. There is a marked division of opinion in London as to which side King Ferdinand and Premier Radosloff will choose. Notwithstanding the signs of hostility toward Serbia on the part of Bulgaria, the opinion is expressed by some well-informed diplomats that Bulgaria will not fight, and that even though the government should elect to do so, the Bulgarian people would resist such a policy.

TEUTON BLOW READY.
If the reports from Paris, Bucharest and Athens of the concentration of Teutonic troops on the Serbian frontier are correct, the promptitude with which Russia has taken up the German challenge explained. According to these reports, Field Marshal von Mackensen has quit the Eastern front and is now near the Serbian border at the head of 250,000 German and Austrian troops, with 2,000 guns. It is represented that he is ready to repeat against Serbia his phalanx movements which cleared the Russians out of Galicia. In addition to this force, Bulgarians numbering 350,000 are said to have massed along the eastern border of Serbia.

If action by the entente powers should become necessary when Bulgaria makes final disclosure of her intentions, this action would be undertaken by troops which are now in readiness to take the field simultaneously with the forces of Greece.

The opinion is expressed here that a prompt movement, such as would be undertaken, would be likely to disentangle the counsels of Eumania, which for the moment seem obscure.

TACTICS REQUIRE CHANGES.
British military writers see in this situation great danger to the central powers. They argue that German plans must have been laid down weeks ago, when it was supposed the German armies were likely to force a decision in the east, and before the unexpected mobilization of Greece and the formidable offensive in the west of the Allies. Since the plans for the Teutonic campaign against Serbia were conceived Russia has brought the initiative along most of the front.

The results of the great recruiting rally in England on Saturday are not yet known, but it is generally understood that Lord Kitchener will get the necessary number of men by one means or another.

"I know how many men I want," he told the labor leaders. "I know their names and the numbers on their doors, and if they don't come I will fetch them. Give me the men and numbers I want and I guarantee we shall have the war in the hollow of our hands."

GREECE READY TO JOIN WITH ENTENTE

ATHENS, Oct. 4, 7:15 p. m., via Paris, Oct. 4, 11:50 a. m.—All doubt as to the entrance of Greece into the war on the side of the entente allies has now been disposed of. The official organ of the government says that the landing of French troops at Saloniki is for the purpose of assisting Greece.

46 Nuns Perish in Bombarded Hospital

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A Petrograd dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company says that the Russian Red Cross Society has published a list of forty-six Sisters of Mercy who perished in the bombardment of a hospital by the Austrians and Germans.

The Germans have constructed huge railway workshops at Wirballen, where they are employing French and Belgian prisoners. The dispatch continues: "Not a single Austrian prisoner has arrived at Kiev."

TRIBUNE'S PAGE for WOMEN and the KIDDIES

Women in the News

LONDON, Oct. 4.—What promises to be an interesting sequel to an Anglo-American divorce case is expected to be heard in the high courts here when they reconvene October 12.

The principals are Captain Ronald French of the British army, a cousin of the present Lord French, and Mrs. Ida Marcelle French, daughter of Robert John Wynne, formerly postmaster general in President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Mrs. French is a very beautiful woman, well known in London society. She and her sister, Ruth, have always been called "the beautiful Wynne girls."

In December, 1913, Mrs. French brought suit for divorce, alleging misconduct. Captain French did not defend the suit. The wife was granted a decree nisi with the custody of her daughter.

Before the decree could be made absolute, allegations were brought to the attention of the king's proctor, who intervened, and asked the court to rescind the decree on the ground that Mrs. French's mode of life before and since the divorce has not been such as to entitle her to the decree.

The king's proctor alleges that Mrs. French and Frank Mills Andrews, a well-known New York architect, were living together as man and wife while the divorce suit was pending and have been doing so ever since.

Mrs. French denies the allegations, saying in her answer: "Mr. Andrews is my guardian. He is taking care of me at the request of my father and mother."

Much evidence has been collected by the king's proctor in the United States, Paris and London.

Captain French, who recently returned from the trenches, has made an affidavit in which he says:

"I know of no misconduct on my wife's part of my own knowledge, but I know she has been on friendly terms with a man named Andrews. He was married. His wife was an actress in New York, Pauline Frederick, who divorced him."

"While we were staying at the Plaza Hotel, New York, in 1912, I saw Andrews kiss my wife. It was late at night, at Louis Martin's cabaret. There was a party that night and it was a jolly evening."

"On one occasion my wife motored with Frank Andrews to Blossom Heath. They did not return until the next morning. When I objected to her having gone she replied: 'There is nothing wrong.'"

French states that his wife and Andrews journeyed to England together on the Mauretania.

BEWARE OF ELDERLY CLERGYMEN, SHE SAYS
DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 4.—Lucille Covington, who has a $100,000 breach of promise suit against Dr. Hill, warned young women to keep away from elderly ministers. She added that she hoped all ways to be a spinster.

"I know only two true men in the world and they are my father and my brother," she said. "I am through with men forever. That is, at close range. Men may be all right when kept at a distance, but my knowledge is that they are two-faced and not to be trusted at all."

KNOWS WOMAN BUT DENIES EXTORTION
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Although nothing has developed to establish the identity of the man giving the name of W. G. Cunningham, who was trapped and arrested Saturday while trying to extort $5000 from Mrs. C. W. Evans, wife of a prominent physician, curious angles in the attempted plot to blackmail came to light in San Francisco.

While admitting that the name of Cunningham was a fictitious one, the man who was arrested at Mrs. Evans' home in Modesto said he was acting for Jackson C. Benson, said to be a stock broker and stock salesman.

Benson was found living at the Appleton hotel, 240 O'Farrell street. He admitted having met Mrs. Evans socially and of having corresponded with her, but made vigorous denial that he knew Cunningham or had sent anyone else to demand $5000 from Mrs. Evans in return for letters she had written to him. Benson said:

"I have been in San Francisco for some time representing myself as a social worker, and Mrs. Evans in a social way, being introduced by mutual friends. I corresponded with her and had several letters that she addressed to me in my trunk when my wife sued me for divorce. I don't know where my wife is now, but I do know that after the divorce action for divorce my trunk was rifled. Letters that Mrs. Evans had written to me were stolen along with other personal papers."

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP
Now Does Her Own Work.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Fronton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also.
"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SUSIE AND UNCLE WIGGILY'S CRUTCH

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By HOWARD R. GARIS.)

Deep down in a dark hole in the dismal woods lived a furry old fox. And he was not a good fox, either, for he was the one who was always chasing after Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, and trying to catch him.

One day, after the fox had tried five times to catch Uncle Wiggily, but could not, the bad creature came home to his den, deep down in a dark hole in the dismal woods. The fox was very tired. "What is the matter, pa?" asked one of the little boy foxes. "What happened?"

"Nothing happened, Sharp Tooth," answered the other fox. "I've been something bad happened. I wish it had happened that I had caught that Mr. Longears rabbit. Then we would have had supper for supper. As it is, we shall only have sassafras tea. Oh, if only I could catch that rabbit!"

Then the old fox and Mrs. Fox and the little foxes sat down to their supper of sassafras tea, and not much else. And Sharp Tooth, the little boy fox, who had asked his father what the matter was, said to himself:

"Ah, I wonder if I couldn't catch that Uncle Wiggily rabbit? I'm going to try. If I can catch him it will be a fine thing for me. Yes, I'll go out in the woods and catch Mr. Longears."

The little boy fox thought it would be very easy. But you and I know how many times the father fox had tried to catch Uncle Wiggily, but had not. However, they say in story books, let us see what happens.

The next morning Sharp Tooth, the little boy fox, went out to his father or mother, or brothers, or sisters, started out from the hole deep down underground in the dismal woods where he lived, to go out and try to catch Uncle Wiggily.

Along and along sneaked the boy fox, keeping down out of sight behind sticks, stones, stumps, tall grass—anything behind which he could hide.

I wonder when I'll see Uncle Wiggily," thought the little boy fox, as on and on he went.

Evilant mufamfe bgtamf bkgafwvHRW Now about this time Susie Littletail, the rabbit girl, was on her way through the woods going to the store for her mother. Along and along hopped Susie, singing a song that went something like this:

"To the store I love to go,
Running fast or running slow.
I can buy a cake of soap,
While I jump the skipping rope.

"When I have my doll with me,
I can coffee buy, or tea.
And, while standing on my head,
I can eat some jam and bread."

Pretty soon Susie came to a bridge across a wide and deep brook that bubbled and cooed over the green, mossy stones far down below. Susie, the little rabbit girl, always ran across this bridge, for she was somewhat afraid of the water. The bridge might break and let her fall into the water. She was always glad when she was safely over it.

This time, as she ran across the bridge, the bad little fox boy, hiding in the bushes at the edge of the brook, saw the little rabbit girl.

"Ah, he!" snarled Sharp Tooth to himself. "There goes that Uncle Wiggily Longears rabbit now! I've seen him, but I've heard my father tell about him, and what long ears he had. This surely must be he. And now, how shall I catch him?"

Of course it wasn't Uncle Wiggily at all, but Susie, and by the time the boy had seen her, she was across the bridge and far on the other side.

"That rabbit is no use in chasing after me to catch. But I know what I'll do. I'll wait until he comes back. Then I'll get him. And what's more, I'll tear down the bridge so he can't cross the brook."

No sooner said than done. With his sharp teeth and strong paws the bad fox tore down the bridge, which was as big as a table. Then he waited.

"There," exclaimed the fox boy. "Now I'll hide in the bushes, and when that rabbit comes back, and sees the bridge is gone, he'll be sure to come back. Then I'll have Uncle Wiggily, and what's more, I'll tear down the bridge so he can't cross the brook."

So the fox waited for Susie to come back, thinking all the while, she was Uncle Wiggily. Soon Susie did come back on her way home from the store. She saw that the bridge was gone, and that there was no way of getting across the brook. She was very much surprised, and she swam very well, and it was too far to jump.

"Oh, dear!" cried poor Susie Littletail. "I don't know what I'm going to do. Oh, dear!"

"What?" asked Susie before she thought. "I'm going to catch you! That's what I'm going to do!" snarled the fox boy, jumping out of the bushes. "I tore the bridge down on purpose so I could catch you, Uncle Wiggily Longears."

"Oh, but I'm not Uncle Wiggily Longears," cried Susie. "I'm Susie Littletail. Oh, yes you are, too!" said the fox. "You can't fool me."

"If I am Uncle Wiggily, where is my red, white and blue striped barber pole rheumatism crutch that Nurse Wiggily Wuzzie gnawed out of a cornstalk?" asked Susie.

"Pooh! I don't care for that!" cried the fox boy. "Crutch or not, you're Uncle Wiggily. Now I'll catch you and take you to my father's den. Then he made a jump for Susie, but Susie ran back to the other side of the brook.

"Oh, dear!" cried the little rabbit girl. "If only there was a bridge across the brook, I could get safely over to the other side and go home. But there isn't one. Oh, dear! Help! Help!" she cried. "Will no one help me?"

"Yes, I'll help you!" said a brave voice, and along came Uncle Wiggily safe on the other side. Then he set Longears himself with his crutch. He was on his way home from having had a game of checkers with Grandfather Goosey Gander. "What is the matter, Susie?" asked Uncle Wiggily, not seeing the fox at first.

"Oh, the bridge is down and I can't get over the brook," said Susie. "The fox is after me. Oh, can you make a bridge and save me, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Of course, I can!" cried the rabbit gentleman. Mr. Longears laid his big, strong crutch down across the brook from one shore to the other, just where the bridge had been. Then, catching Susie up in his paw, Uncle Wiggily ran across the crutch-bridge, until he was

NEW NOTE IN FASHION Summer Friends

By LILLIAN RUSSELL
(Copyright, 1915, by Lillian Russell.)

WHEN you start on a vacation don't take a vacation in every sense of the word—as many do—leaving their toilet requisites at home. If you do, you are leaving your best friends behind you. I have heard women say, "I shall not do a thing to my face this summer. I will give it a rest from all creams and powders." The consequence will be that the same as it would be in the case of a piece of warment, watered occasionally and then left exposed to the hot sun and winds, blistered and shriveled.

Your good friends, nourishing creams and pure powders, should be your constant companions from the beginning of your journey to the end. When you see a number of women leaving a train after a long trip you can immediately pick out the ones who prepared for their journey. Their cheeks are rosy and span. Their careless sisters are worn and weary, and look anything but attractive.

Some faces are fresh and show no traces of headache or fatigue, but each mile it would seem, has impaired the appearance of the indifferent woman and those who do not think they need cold cream, powder and refreshing toilet water.

Summer travel is harder on the complexion than any other. Everywhere you go you will encounter strange waters in washrooms. Invariably they are hard on one's complexion. This is especially the case on trains.

Travel stains are unusual tests and should be removed under favorable conditions. Usually the facilities at your command while traveling are far from adequate.

While you are traveling by motor, the hot wind and dust take the life out of your skin unless it is fully protected. The wind is harder on the skin than the sun. A woman is very foolish to start on a motor trip without plenty of cosmetics to offset the effects of wind and sun.

Before motoring or taking exercise in the sun and heat, a gentle rubbing with nourishing cream into the pores of the skin of the face and neck followed by powdering will protect the skin from the elements.

A woman cannot enjoy traveling when her cheeks are stinging from the bite of the wind, the heat of the sun, or the irritation of the ever-present dust particles. She can only be comfortable by putting her skin in condition to resist their influences. When you neglect your customary facial treatments at the time of the year that they are most necessary, you are hoarding up trouble for the autumn and winter that will take time, trouble and patience to overcome.

The skin of the face needs oiling more than any other portion of the body by reason of its constant exposure. Be kind to it and thus add to your comfort and good looks. A burned, chapped and peeling face is unsightly. There is no economy of wealth or comfort in neglecting your appearance.

An afternoon gown on original lines. The foundation dress has a blue velvet waist and a four-tiered pleated taffeta skirt. The overblouse is of blue rose and silver brocade, edged with skunk fur. Blue Georgette crepe sleeves.

GILROY WOMAN KILLS MOUNTAIN LION
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The wife of Dr. John Clark of Gilroy recently bagged a big mountain lion near Gilroy Hot Springs and the modern Diana is naturally proud of her success. With Dr. Clark and Jim Fitzgerald, the party was out for a deer hunt and camped near Big Gulch, three and a half miles from the springs. On Monday last Dr. Clark and Fitzgerald left for an early hunt. Mrs. Clark decided to remain in camp.

At 7 o'clock she was startled by the scream of a mountain lion that looked down upon her. Running to her tent she grabbed a high power rifle and although the first shot brought the animal down, she kept on shooting. The lion measured seven feet seven inches and weighed 145 pounds. The party also bagged two fine ducks.

NEW GERMAN NOTE DISSATISFIES U.S.

ASSURANCES WILL BE ASKED

Lansing to Show Bernstorff Wherein Latest Reply Is Lacking.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Although Germany's new note on the Arabic case is not entirely satisfactory to the United States, the situation is not considered critical at this time. This was stated today on high official authority.

The view held by President Wilson and State Department officials on the note handed to Secretary Lansing in New York Saturday by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, is that it was not specific enough on the points insisted on by the President. These are a disavowal of the sinking, assurances that the act would not be repeated, and proper reparation.

Careful reading of the note delivered by the German ambassador has convinced administration officials that further negotiations on the questions are possible and that still there is reason to hope that Germany will in the end accede to the wishes of the United States.

The note will not be formally answered immediately, but Secretary Lansing at a conference later this week with the German ambassador will inform him of the points the United States wants cleared up.

Germany's position now, however, more nearly approaches the one of the United States than it did in the previous note on the same question.

U. S. Charges Texas $91,000 for "Fraud"

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 4.—The War Department has advised the state adjutant-general's office at Austin that the government allowance to the Texas National Guard for the ensuing year will be $900,000 instead of $100,000, it was announced here today. A deduction of $91,000 from the usual appropriation was made by the department to cover the value of uniforms and other equipment belonging to the state militia which, it is charged, were sold to Mexican revolutionists after official statements had been submitted to the government that they had been destroyed.

Three officers of the Texas National Guard recently were indicted here on charges of defrauding the government in connection with the alleged sale of the militia equipment.

Agents of the Department of Justice say that $20,000 worth of uniforms was sold to Carranza troops, the United States army uniforms being removed and sold to a St. Louis firm.

Hit by Morgue Auto; Insult, Not Accident

William Anderson, 1686 Atlantic street, considering it part of the regular routine of city life to be struck by an automobile at Eleventh and Broadway, yesterday morning. He brushed himself off and was about to start on his way when he noticed that the machine was that knocked him down. Then he began to curse, and the torrent of language which he directed at the driver astonished the group of church-goers who were on their way to their various places of worship.

"Anybody stands a chance of being run down by an auto nowadays," said Anderson, "but I think it's rubbing it in to be knocked down by the morgue wagon."

Young Girl Allowed $25,000 for Necessaries

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Miss Virginia Bruce Loney, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Allen D. Loney, who was orphaned by the sinking of the Lusitania, will be allowed $25,000 a year for "necessaries" from the $1,000,000 left by her mother. Supreme Court Justice Pendleton has indicated his willingness to grant this amount.

JAPAN TO CONTROL PACIFIC SHIPPING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A crisis has been reached in the shipping war between the Pacific American trade with the Far East, built up after many years of labor, is about to pass into the hands of Japan. The La Follette seaman's law, which goes into effect one month from tomorrow, November 4, has already driven the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, the only American line and the oldest operating on the Pacific Ocean, from the trans-Pacific service.

The entire Pacific shipping situation is summarized in a report transmitted to the State Department by George E. Anderson, American Consul-General in Hongkong. Anderson says:

"There are not now, and so far as may be seen at present, either are there likely to be soon, sufficient vessels to carry American and other passengers between Asia and the United States, to carry American freight to its Eastern markets, nor to carry Asiatic raw materials to American manufacturers, while postal service and all similar facilities of trade depend upon rapid and regular communication between the United States and the Far East can be but irregular and precarious for an indefinite period in the future."

Plunges 3 Stories in Suicide Attempt

NO CLEWS IN BERKELEY ROBBERY

Men Who Held Up S. P. Station Are Still at Large; Police at Work.

BERKELEY, Oct. 4.—With almost no clew at all upon which to work, the police are making every effort today to get upon the track of the two men who last night robbed the Southern Pacific University avenue depot after forcing George A. Hall, the night clerk, to draw the shades and sever the telephone wires. A description of the man who entered the depot has been furnished the police by Hall, but it is imperfect because of the fact that he was masked.

The second man of the pair, who did not appear in the station office until his confederate had secured $10 from the station till and was ready to leave, also was masked. "Both were of medium height and wore rough clothing. Only the first man displayed a weapon."

He appeared in the depot just after the outbound Oregon Express No. 15 had left at 9:05 p. m. Hall was engaged in checking up his accounts, preparatory to closing the office for the night. The door was suddenly opened and a man came in, confronting an intruder who pointed a revolver at him and ordered him to hold up his hands. The man wore a large black handkerchief over the lower part of his face.

"You're kidding," replied Hall with a laugh, supposing the intruder to be some practical joker. "This is a business. Pull down those shades."

Impressed by now with the seriousness of the affair, Hall hastened to obey while the robber kept him covered with his weapon. At a second command Hall slit the telephone wires leading to the mole with a knife.

The robber then produced an iron bar, shaped something like a T-bar, with which he ordered that Hall break open the cash box in the safe. Hall spared for time with the declaration that he could not do it, that the box was too tightly locked.

At this moment the second robber, whom Hall supposed to have been a lookout stationed outside the depot, ran up to the clerk, who was still cowering in his companion that the University avenue street car was approaching. Without further pause the latter swept into his hand money which Hall had been counting and which was on the counter, and ran from the place.

Immediately Hall followed them and, from a near-by telephone, aroused the police. A detail led by Patrolman Cosby scoured the neighborhood during the remainder of the night, but without finding trace of the bandits.

SAFE TELLS KOHN'S SECRETS INHERITANCE TAX, $264,927.63 FINANCIER MADE VAST LOANS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Coincident with the filing in the superior court this morning of the report of inheritance Tax appraiser William A. Kohn, on the estate of the late Isaac Kohn, formerly known as the "king of the Pacific coast," is the disclosure that the executors of the estate of the deceased financier paid to State Comptroller John S. Chambers the sum of $164,927.63, one of the largest amounts ever collected in the State of California as an inheritance tax.

Kohn, who died in this city on April 14 last, left an estate valued at $1,419,151.40, the principal beneficiaries being his widow, Elizabeth Victoria Kohn, two sons, George Adolphus and Philip Kohn, and a daughter, Emma Rebecca Ackerman. The three children each received $274,193.81, while the wife's share amounted to $207,322.43. The balance is divided between various relatives, friends and charities in the manner herein stated.

INTERESTING SIGHTS.

Attorney Sullivan's report throws an interesting sidelight on the life and financial activities of Kohn, who was nurtured among the various characters that have figured in the romantic history of the west. It also reveals some of the financial dealings of many of San Francisco and California's largest firms and most prominent business men, being illustrative of the far reaching influence that may be wielded by a single individual with a large amount of cash at his disposal.

Kohn, who was such an individual and was generally known to have more ready money than any other man in California. The late financier's assets, in addition to a number of gilt edged stocks and bonds and a comparatively small amount of real property, appeared to have consisted of promissory notes secured by first mortgages, and ranging in amounts from $2500 up to $100,000. Several of the latter were inclosed in the inventory of the estate assets.

SHOW KEEN JUDGMENT.

The appraisement of the notes shows that Kohn was an unusually good judge of the value of promissory notes, and placed below their face value; some, however, are appraised as worthless, and others as having lost value. This has been pointed out by the court in the public sale.

Notable among these are several promissory notes signed by E. R. Litten

WOMAN SAVED FROM DEATH BY WINDOW

Queenie Kelly, Dance Hall Artist, Will Recover From Jump.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Queenie Kelly, a pretty dance hall girl, made a melodramatic but unsuccessful attempt at suicide at 3 o'clock this morning when she jumped the height of three stories from a window of her apartment in the Alma Hotel, Kearny and Jackson streets, falling into the basement of the building. She will live, physicians at the Harbor emergency hospital say. She is suffering from a long and severe laceration on the leg, a lacerated arm and possible internal injuries.

ATTACK OF GLOOMS.

"I just had an attack of the glooms and I thought I would quit the whole shebang," the girl told the horrified crowd that gathered about her when she was found in the hotel basement.

It was the fact that her body plunged through the skylight in its downward plunge that the girl is alive now. The glass broke the fall, after her body had hurtled through the space of two stories. It was after the fall had been turned low on the Barbary Coast that Queenie Kelly went to her apartments early this morning, sad and dispirited, having refused an invitation of friends to accompany them on an early morning joy ride.

"No," she told them, "I've got something better to do."

JUMPS THROUGH WINDOW.

In her narrow room the girl removed the paint and clothes that made her face and body look so bold, and radiant to the coast habitués and sat in a chair for a few minutes, thinking. Her mind made up, she did not hesitate when she went to a window opening on the street. She threw the window up with a determined swing and did not pause in placing her two feet through the opening and determinedly pushing herself to the edge of the basement. Flooded with light she fell into the Barbary Coast that Queenie Kelly went to her apartments early this morning, sad and dispirited, having refused an invitation of friends to accompany them on an early morning joy ride.

Girl Who Escaped Armed Man Weds

Annie Brown, Object of Threat, Tells Secret

Miss Annie Brown, pretty stenographer, formerly with the Realty Syndicate Company, whose life was threatened by George Carson, a sailor, when she refused his attention a year ago, was secretly married to Hellmuth Schmidt, Oakland business man, at Napa March 7. Announcement of the wedding, which has just been given out by Mrs. Charles Brown, the bride's mother, has come as a surprise to friends of the popular young couple. The ceremony was quietly performed at Napa. No one but those relatives were taken into the confidence of the couple, who are now living in Oakland and are receiving the belated congratulations of their many friends.

The attack on the former Miss Brown was made by Carson during the busiest part of the day in the Realty Syndicate building. Armed with a revolver, he called on the young woman for the purpose of extracting a promise of marriage from her, or failing that, of taking her life. Detectives were called in time to prevent a tragedy and the young man was disarmed and removed to the city jail. He was ultimately liberated on promising to leave the country, although for months after her life was threatened Miss Brown went about in terror of a second attack.

Carson, who was employed as a chauffeur and who was claimed to be a relative of Sir Edward Carson, famous British statesman, is now serving with the British army at the front.

STATE LABOR DENOUNCES SABOTAGE

Alleged Methods of I. W. W. Bring Censure From Federation Leaders.

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 4.—Disastrous effects of politics on the labor movement in California, and condemnation of methods alleged to have been employed by Industrial Workers of the World in urging the pardon of Herman Suhr and Richard Ford, convicted of murder during the Wheatland hop riots, were subjects of reports submitted today at the opening session of the California States Federation of Labor. Two Japanese were seated in the convention, for the first time in the history of the organization, it was said.

Joshua B. Dale, state labor organizer, declared "too much politics is responsible for the deplorable condition of the labor movement in California. It is a lesson to be learned from the non-partisan policy of the American Federation of Labor, namely, to be a partisan to principle and not to political party."

Dale recommended that every International union send an organizer to Los Angeles for four months. He suggested that should have been made in that time. Dale advised that Los Angeles workers be left to their own devices.

Paul Scharrerberg, state secretary-treasurer, termed Governor Hiram W. Johnson's refusal to pardon Ford and Suhr as "the only manly way left open" after the "coercion in the shape of Industrial Workers of the World threats to resort to violence, sabotage and arson against Ford and Suhr are promptly repelled."

"The working class can least afford to countenance such methods," Scharrerberg said. "It is better to leave two innocent men in jail to suffer and suffer the fate of martyrs for the time, at least, than to submit to the rule of the torch."

The two Japanese seated were R. Suzuki and Y. Yamashita, first and second delegates from the Laborer Friendly Society of Japan. They came to the United States several months ago to study trades unionism and to attend the convention of the American Federation of Labor at San Francisco next month.

ARROW-ROCK DAM HIGHEST IN WORLD

Towers 348.5 Feet Above Foundation; 600,000 Yards of Concrete Used.

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 4.—Arrow-Rock dam, just completed near Boise by the United States reclamation service and dedicated here today is 348.5 feet high measured from the low point of the foundation to the top of its surmounting crest and is said to be the highest dam in the world. To anchor this structure it was necessary to blast through 91.5 feet of volcanic rock down to solid granite. Approximately 600,000 yards of concrete besides a large quantity of steel and rock were used in the dam's construction, the cost being $5,000,000, or $2,000,000 under the original estimate. Work on the structure was begun five years ago.

Each of the dam's channel of the Boise river is converted into a reservoir extending eighteen miles into the mountains with a storage capacity of eighty billion gallons, enough to water 234,000 acres in Boise valley, adjacent to Boise, Nampa, Caldwell and other towns in what is known as the Boise irrigation project. The installation of the system cost the government $12,000,000 which is to be repaid by settlers in twenty years. The water storage this year has saved the crops 100,000 acres, the value of which is estimated to about equal the cost of the dam.

A feature of the dam is the device at one end for lifting logs from the reservoir into a concrete chute, landing them in the river below for the convenience of saw mills. Engineers estimate that there are three billion feet of timber to be lifted over the dam.

A standard-gauge railway seventeen miles long, operated by the government, and here a telephone system extending to every part of the irrigation system are other features.
